

JOSH MANDEL

STATE TREASURER OF OHIO

Financial EDge is a collection of tools geared towards educators, parents and youth to teach young Ohioans about personal and public finances including: Budget GameEverFiReal Money. Real World.Teaching Strategies Additional ResourcesMade available by Ohio Treasurer Josh Mandel's office, Financial EDge leverages technology, engages non-profit organizations, and cultivates public-private partnerships to connect educators with helpful and innovative financial education resources.For a quick guide to financial literacy terminology, click HERE.All Ohio schools are required to offer personal finance education to students grades two through twelve. Accordingly, Financial EDge accommodates classrooms with varying learning styles and technological capabilities in their teaching of financial education by providing interactive online programming along with print-based materials. For more information about Amended Substitute Senate Bill 311, which requires integration of economics and financial literacy within social studies classes or another class, click HERE.Each of our tools directly correlates with Ohio Model Curriculum topics and content statements outlined HERE.

Budget GameDownload a quick and fun way to learn about creating and spending according to a personal budget.EverFiUse these online interactive modules in the classroom for a unique and interesting way to learn about financial literacy.Real Money. Real World.Find out how to connect with your local OSU Extension office to bring this real world budgeting simulation to your school.OhioCheckbook.com Teaching StrategiesUse Ohio's Online Checkbook, for a new way to teach dozens of content statements outlined in the Ohio Model Curricula – perfect for a Blizzard Bag project.Additional ResourcesFor more online information from our partners, check out our online resources.For more information, contact Jessica Dragar at (440) 596-7668 or email us at financialliteracy@tos.ohio.gov.